3.7 Achieve transparent and stunning wallpaper for Windows Wallpaper changing is one of the most frequently used features in Windows desktop environments.

With wallpaper changing in Windows you can easily change your wallpaper on a daily basis, and view different wallpaper themes. If you wish to change your screensaver you will need an extra step, that can be a bit difficult, and even more complicated when you try to change the appearance of the screensaver. Wallpaper changing is not available by default, but there are different free and paid tools available, which can help you. With the free and rather handy tool, Cool and Beautiful Wallpaper Changer you can create desktop wallpapers easily by combining a set of images. All you need is an image folder containing images that you want to use as wallpaper, and Wallpaper Changer. Note that this does not work with GIF images. This application offers many customization options, including the ability to change the background color of the wallpaper, set the opacity for the images, change the format of the background image to stretch, and set the default image size. The slideshow option is available, and it will show a custom sequence of pictures, or a set of pictures. Another free option is Wallpaper2, which also works with JPEG, GIF and BMP files, and can create a slideshow, which you can choose to run daily or never. The program has several main features, including the ability to change the background color, or the opacity for the images. You can also choose the format of the wallpaper, and set the default size for the wallpaper images. Finally, the program supports Windows Vista, and includes a built-in network folder browser. Wallpaper Changer is easy to use, and it has very few settings that you can customize. Wallpaper2 on the other hand, has many options, and can automatically change your wallpaper, or you can use a file that you can choose to view each day.
